Electronic devices, including, but not limited to, laptop/netbook/tablet computers, cellular devices, e-readers, and MP3 players will be turned off within the physical learning environment. Exceptions include the use of such devices for medical emergencies or contact which must be maintained due to work requirements. In such cases the student must advise the instructor and the device must be in "silent mode." The instructor may make adjustments to this regulation for specific usage in their unique learning environments. The usage of such electronic devices in relation to approved ADA accommodation is exempt from this regulation.

Disciplinary actions related to the violation of this regulation may include but are not limited to: a verbal warning to the student; the student being asked to leave the learning environment; reduction in the grade for an assignment or examination.
